Historical Thinking Skills: A Workbook For European History

Synopsis

John Irish and Edward Carson, both experienced history teachers, have teamed up to develop this workbook to focus on the historical thinking skills that high school students in the AP® European course must master in order to perform well on the exam. Nine types of graphic organizers help students hone the skills essential for success in the course, including cause and effect, chronological reasoning, comparison, contextualization, continuity and change over time, defining the period, historical argument and turning points. AP® is a trademark registered and/or owned by the College Board, which was not involved in the production of, and does not endorse, this product.

Customer Reviews

This is a fantastic resource! I've been teaching AP European History for many years now, but with the redesign going into effect this year, I've felt like a first year teacher in many ways. I just received this book this past week and already I feel that it is going to greatly benefit my students this year and for many years to come. If you want to be able to effectively teach your students how to think like a historian and do the work of a historian, you need this book! It's great practice for students doing the work of historians and is fantastic in helping them develop the skills they need to be successful on the new AP European History exam.

As a first year Euro teacher, I would be absolutely lost without this book. I only wish I had gotten it sooner!

We will see how my son does on the AP test but seems a good fit

The best thing ever!!!

This workbook is far too simplistic for the complexities of AP Euro. There wasn't anything here that I haven't already created myself for students to use in my classroom. For a student review book, no answer keys means students have no way to check themselves to see if they are correct.
